5. Fifty per cent of the total expenditure on the scheme should be recovered from the ryots. The Government of India will be addressed separately for a grant for the scheme.

6. As the Scheme is to be executed during the off-season when the agriculturists will have plenty of time on their hands, they should be persuaded to contribute their labour and put up the field works like bunds and trenches, themselves. This will minimise the expenditure on the scheme and the share of cost recoverable from the ryots.
